He lives in London, where, when not drawing, he likes to make hats.

"This ingenious spin-off of Beaty and Roberts's Rosie Revere, Engineer aims to get children asking questions, finding treasure where others see trash, and dreaming up solutions for such real-world "problems" as figuring out how to open a door with one's elbow... Games, profiles of inventors, and an all-around focus on pie-in-the-sky thinking add up to an activity book with substantial depth." (Publishers Weekly)
